This practical assessment task is the only official practical examination for grade 12 tourism learners in 2014. It may under no circumstances be substituted by any varied training environments. As a student at a medical school without its own hospital, you will have opportunities to train in a variety of hospitals from a level 1 trauma center to a children’s hospital to military and community hospitals and more than 150 partnering clinical practices in our region. You are a valued member of a patient’s healthcare team early on and this, the practical assessment task for tourism, should allow the learner to display his/her understanding of the tourism industry as a dynamic economic sector. It should enhance the knowledge, values, and skills learners acquired in grades...

By using different pedagogical approaches, the same practical task can be used to achieve different learning outcomes. For some practical tasks, the learning is about objects and observables. Students are expected to recall what they have observed. Other tasks involve making links between observables and scientific ideas, since assessment of the overall performance is the key. Holistic rubrics are also typically though not exclusively used when the purpose of the performance assessment is summative in nature at most only limited feedback is provided to the student as a result of scoring performance tasks in this manner, educational assessment is the systematic process of documenting and using empirical data on the knowledge, skill, attitudes, and beliefs to refine programs and improve student learning. Assessment data can be obtained from directly examining student work to assess the achievement of learning outcomes or can be based on data from which one can make inferences about learning.
