English Conversations about Job Interviews and Tips

When you do get a response from an employer you would still need to go through a series of screenings for them to evaluate whether you possess the right skills. People with experience in job interviews often comment that the person interviewing them often has little or no idea about the actual job requirements and are only there as a first filter.

Making a good impression when speaking about your past work experience is the most important part of any job interview. Use these verbs to specifically describe responsibilities at work. Be assertive and take responsibility for the interview. Perhaps out of the effort to be polite some usually assertive candidates become overly passive during job interviews. But politeness doesn’t mean that you should not take responsibility of your actions, that’s what an interview is.
