The primary school leaving examination (PSLE) is also known as Kidato Cha Saba (KCS). This is a national standardized exam called PSLE. The National Examination Council of Tanzania (NECTA) administers the PSLE, which is the last exam in primary school. NECTA is a government institution that was established by the parliamentary act no 21 of 1973. It is responsible for the administration of all national examinations in Tanzania.

The PSLE examination is taken by all students near the end of their primary school education. In some cases, students must undergo investigations before results are released. The PSLE results are published on the NECTA website.

The PSLE examination is a crucial step in a student's academic journey, as it aids in their readiness and selection for the next level of education based on their performance. Furthermore, the PSLE results provide a foundation for students and their families to plan for the future education of their children.

The PSLE examination is a national standardized exam that is administered by the government. The exam is designed to assess students' knowledge and skills in a comprehensive manner. The exam is taken by all students near the end of their primary school education, and the results are published on the NECTA website.
