How to write a soap note: Soap notes are a style of documentation that medical professionals such as nurses, therapists, athletic trainers, counsellors, and doctors use to record information about patients. The acronym stands for:

- Subjective
- Objective
- Analysis
- Plan

This can be described as a method used to document a patient's data, normally used by healthcare providers. This data is written in a patient's chart and uses common formats. The four parts are explained as below:

1. Subjective: This is the part of
2. Iron deficiency anemia: An advanced stage of iron deficiency when the body has sufficient iron to meet its needs. Functional iron is stored for later use in the bone marrow, liver, and spleen. As part of a finely tuned system of human iron metabolism, iron deficiency ranges from iron depletion, which yields little physiological damage to iron deficiency anemia, which can cause harm.

Examples of student submitted soap notes and information a preceptor might provide when evaluating each note advice to soap writers:

- Start each soap note by writing the date and time military time on the top left hand corner of the note for paper or non-form notes.

Soap notes nowadays in the EMR are meant more for billing insurance companies than for the patient's benefit. Don’t get me wrong. A good soap helps communicate to specialists and consultants, but the patient takes a backseat to meaningful use.

Components: Numerous examples are given throughout at the end of this discussion. An example of a soap note for a particular clinical problem is presented for purposes of comparison.

An example of a history and physical (H&P) for that same problem is also provided. Note that the soap contains nutritional assessment. Iron deficiency anemia.
