All in all, The Kite Maker is a short story by British Indian author Ruskin Bond in it an old man... in rural india muses on how the world has changed while his grandson flies a kite nearby bond uses nature imagery as symbols with an old gnarled banyan tree standing in for the old man while a young spry mimosa tree represents the vitality of the grandson, read the poem carefully and answer the following questions our window is a magic frame with pictures never twice the same sometimes it frames a sunset sky where clouds of gold and purple lie and sometimes on a windless night it holds a great moon round and white sometimes it frames a lawn and flowers where children play through, beautiful poignant and funny ruskin bonds
